

Trees and Branches Touching Power Lines:

The storm is over and now your tree is touching a nearby power line.

Branches hanging on or over power lines are a serious safety hazard, but don't attempt to cut these branches yourself.

Leave them for the experts – your local power company or a tree care specialist.

Be tree wise -- protect life and limbs...

Brought to you by Texas Forest Service and Texas AgriLife Extension Service

For more information on disaster recovery visit texashelp dot T- A- M- U dot E- D- U.